"Our" box isn't working, but Christ the King is still 25th. out of 79 teams. Well done everyone! Of the schools in our area only Whitley Park is ahead of us—they are in 22nd. place. It has been great to see the children maintaining their enthusiasm despite the problems. We have reported the fault and expect to see our school climb the rankings when it's fixed. Keep on beating the street!

From this week's assembly

Last Sunday was Good Shepherd Sunday when we remember that everyone has a special calling, a vocation. In our assemblies we thought about the words of St. Paul:

"Whatever you do, do it with love."

We started our week in Spanish and finished in Swahili

Buenos Días

Congratulations to...

Our football team: Billy Brophy, Natty Boakye, Brandon Heath, Bradley Cox, Gatlin O'Donkor, Ciaren James, Yimin Hurung, Loukas Chard who this week played in the semi-final of the Berkshire Schools' Cup. They narrowly lost but they played very well and it was a huge achievement to reach the semi-final out of hundreds of schools.

Very well done boys.

New on this week's Blogs...

There has been a lot of super activity on our CTK blogs. From Year 6, where Umar has posted the first chapter of an exciting, original spy story, to Nursery where Molly and Arthur have been having great adventures, the children right across the school have been busily blogging.

Check out these:

- Talk Tennis on Mr Cosgrove's blog, where you can see Loukas, Olivia, Umar and Alana advertising their spy gadgets in a very unusual way!
- The Nursery children telling the story of Elmer on their blog is brilliant fun.
- Natasha's book review of The Parent Agency by David Baddiel is well worth reading on Miss Clarke's blog.

On Mrs Cox's blog, Eulyn showed that she really paid attention on autism awareness day and Logan Lewis wrote a great book review.

Name: Some Dogs Do

One day Sid the dog discovers he can fly and he excitedly tells everyone at school. His friends laugh at him and say he is lying. When asked to prove it, Sid tries hard but he can not fly any more. Sadly and slowly he walks home after school. At home his parents realise something is wrong and tell him a big secret – Some dogs do fly.

This story is a simple rhyming story with a very strong message – always believe in ourselves and never ever give up. Logan
