Diocesan Inspection

Thank you to all parents and children for your co-operation this week when the school was inspected under Section 48 of the Education Act. Section 48 inspections are not conducted by Ofsted but are legal requirements for all church schools and, in our case, are carried out every five years by the Diocese of Portsmouth. The report will be published within the next couple of weeks. We will let you all know the findings and publish the full report on our website.

The best of this week's Blogs...

This week there are some super video clips on the Blogs from Nursery, Miss Hollows' class and Miss Casey's class. For a really fun experience click on Miss Casey's Blog and check out the Year 1 dancing and the re-telling of the Three Billy Goats Gruff. It's amazing to think most of these children are still only 5.

Mr Krasnopolski's blog has some fascinating information about the Vikings, and in particular the Blog from William Parry-Jones, which is too long to re-print in our newsletter, is excellent. William went to the library at half-term and found out facts about the Vikings. In his blog he tells us some of the things he found most interesting, but William isn't just copying out of books, for each fact he explains why he liked it. Well done William.

8—10.30 p.m.

in aid of the Medaille Tust (see below)

More details next week.

Congratulations to...

Sean Trussell, who has achieved Stage 4 of the Amateur Swimming Association Awards.

Jeremiasz Kotewa who has gained the Maths Ninja rank of Nidan.

Well done to both of these.

Charity Haircut...

"Hello, my name is Kaidn Rolfe. I'm shaving my hair for a children's cancer charity. I'm going to need to raise as much money as possible with the help of you guys. There will be a sponsor form in the office where you can make your donation"

For the next few weeks Kaidn will be growing his hair, which will be shaved off just before the Christmas holidays. All donations will be very welcome and may be left at the school office.
